

La casa de Bernarda Alba / The House of Bernarda Alba (Clasicos Hispánicos / Hispanic Classics)

Federico Garcia Lorca

 Descargar

 Leer En Linea

La casa de Bernarda Alba / The House of Bernarda Alba (Clasicos Hispánicos / Hispanic Classics) Federico Garcia Lorca

As he wrote La casa de Bernarda Alba, Federico Garcia Lorca explained: "drama is poetry that escapes the book and becomes human. And as it is being made it talks and shouts, cries and despairs". Lorca saw in theatre the most perfect means to reach people's souls, more immediate and effective than poetry, and he kindled this possibility even amidst difficult times. Lorca is, mainly, a poet, and as so his plays possess great visual as well as linguistic virtue. The last of the rural tragedies -Bernarda Alba was preceded by Bodas de sangre (1933) and Yerma (1934)- was finished in June 1936. It was meant to open in Buenos Aires in October, played by the Margarita Xirgu company, but Lorca was murdered in July. War events postponed the opening until 1945, but in Spain the play would stay banned until 1964. The plot is deceptively simple: Bernarda Alba exerts a tyrant control upon her daughters, who live as prisoners within her house walls. The conflict is deprivation of freedom, blown up to tragic proportions by the death of Bernarda Alba's second husband and her decision to impose eight years of strict mourning. But this mourning goes far beyond the usual black clothing: during the following eight years no one will leave the house, and no man will enter. The reclusion is the results of them being women of a certain social position. The authority/freedom conflict is visible through the submission of the feminine condition -the subtitle Drama of women in the towns of Spain highlights this-. Freedom is stifled by the prejudices of a social class enslaved by appearance and tortured afraid by gossip. Lorca's theatrical experience is highly noticeable in his way of highlighting the conflict without superfluous details: lighting, costumes, text and language, and the actresses' movements, everything is measured to the last millimeter. And the closing words of the main character become a remarkable premonition of what would shroud Spain during many following years. "And I do not want sobbing. Death must be stared in her face". "¡Silence, silence I have said! ¡Silence! Professor Borja Rodriguez-Gutierrez adds to this edition a clear introductory essay that dismantles Garcia Lorca's clockwork mechanism, while introducing annotations that allow the reader to fully grasp the meaning of this influential cornerstone of Hispanic letters.

 Download La casa de Bernarda Alba / The House of Bernarda Alba \(...pdf

 [Read Online La casa de Bernarda Alba / The House of Bernarda Alba
...pdf](#)

La casa de Bernarda Alba / The House of Bernarda Alba (Clasicos Hispanicos / Hispanic Classics)

Federico Garcia Lorca

La casa de Bernarda Alba / The House of Bernarda Alba (Clasicos Hispanicos / Hispanic Classics)

Federico Garcia Lorca

As he wrote La casa de Bernarda Alba, Federico Garcia Lorca explained: "drama is poetry that escapes the book and becomes human. And as it is being made it talks and shouts, cries and despairs". Lorca saw in theatre the most perfect means to reach people's souls, more immediate and effective than poetry, and he kindled this possibility even amidst difficult times. Lorca is, mainly, a poet, and as so his plays possess great visual as well as linguistic virtue. The last of the rural tragedies -Bernarda Alba was preceded by Bodas de sangre (1933) and Yerma (1934)- was finished in June 1936. It was meant to open in Buenos Aires in October, played by the Margarita Xirgu company, but Lorca was murdered in July. War events postponed the opening until 1945, but in Spain the play would stay banned until 1964. The plot is deceptively simple: Bernarda Alba exerts a tyrant control upon her daughters, who live as prisoners within her house walls. The conflict is deprivation of freedom, blown up to tragic proportions by the death of Bernarda Alba's second husband and her decision to impose eight years of strict mourning. But this mourning goes far beyond the usual black clothing: during the following eight years no one will leave the house, and no man will enter. The reclusion is the results of them being women of a certain social position. The authority/freedom conflict is visible through the submission of the feminine condition -the subtitle Drama of women in the towns of Spain highlights this-. Freedom is stifled by the prejudices of a social class enslaved by appearance and tortured afraid by gossip. Lorca's theatrical experience is highly noticeable in his way of highlighting the conflict without superfluous details: lighting, costumes, text and language, and the actresses' movements, everything is measured to the last millimeter. And the closing words of the main character become a remarkable premonition of what would shroud Spain during many following years. "And I do not want sobbing. Death must be stared in her face". "¡Silence, silence I have said! ¡Silence! Professor Borja Rodriguez-Gutierrez adds to this edition a clear introductory essay that dismantles Garcia Lorca's clockwork mechanism, while introducing annotations that allow the reader to fully grasp the meaning of this influential cornerstone of Hispanic letters.

Descargar y leer en línea La casa de Bernarda Alba / The House of Bernarda Alba (Clasicos Hispánicos / Hispanic Classics) Federico Garcia Lorca

---

119 pages

Review

'Professor Ramsden gives very good value on the areas discussed. His analysis is exhaustive, scrupulously balanced and illuminating.' --"Bulletin of Hispanic Studies

'This edition's major contribution is the well-conceived and executed introduction. The reader is led on a step-by-step journey through the Lorca text as well as through the particular biographical circumstances that had an impact on the play. The presentation is clear, orderly and intelligent.' --"Modern Languages Journal

Download and Read Online La casa de Bernarda Alba / The House of Bernarda Alba (Clasicos Hispánicos / Hispanic Classics) Federico Garcia Lorca #I60TSX5GV8M

Leer La casa de Bernarda Alba / The House of Bernarda Alba (Clasicos Hispanicos / Hispanic Classics) by Federico Garcia Lorca para ebook en líneaLa casa de Bernarda Alba / The House of Bernarda Alba (Clasicos Hispanicos / Hispanic Classics) by Federico Garcia Lorca Descarga gratuita de PDF, libros de audio, libros para leer, buenos libros para leer, libros baratos, libros buenos, libros en línea, libros en línea, reseñas de libros epub, leer libros en línea, libros para leer en línea, biblioteca en línea, greatbooks para leer, PDF Mejores libros para leer, libros superiores para leer libros La casa de Bernarda Alba / The House of Bernarda Alba (Clasicos Hispanicos / Hispanic Classics) by Federico Garcia Lorca para leer en línea. Online La casa de Bernarda Alba / The House of Bernarda Alba (Clasicos Hispanicos / Hispanic Classics) by Federico Garcia Lorca ebook PDF descargarLa casa de Bernarda Alba / The House of Bernarda Alba (Clasicos Hispanicos / Hispanic Classics) by Federico Garcia Lorca DocLa casa de Bernarda Alba / The House of Bernarda Alba (Clasicos Hispanicos / Hispanic Classics) by Federico Garcia Lorca MobipocketLa casa de Bernarda Alba / The House of Bernarda Alba (Clasicos Hispanicos / Hispanic Classics) by Federico Garcia Lorca Epub

I60TSX5GV8MI60TSX5GV8MI60TSX5GV8M